PART 2: CONTEXT IN WHICH THE ASSESSMENT TOOK PLACE

Program/Area Highlights and Successes
(Wherever applicable, include course completion rates, job placement outcomes, and licensing examination pass rates. See the program information dashboard at https://livecnm.sharepoint.com/sites/Dashboards/SitePages/Program%20Information%20Dashboard.aspx (access restricted to CNM employees) and other reports at https://www.cnm.edu/depts/opie.) The Early Childhood degree remains a popular field of study at CNM with 857 declared majors and 69 graduates in 2018-2019. The ECME program at CNM continues to grow its enrollment in the English and Spanish sections of the coursework and is the 8th largest AA early childhood program in the country by graduates according to the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES). The Child Development Certificate (CDC) is an embedded certificate within the ECME programs aligned to a state industry certificate and many students start with the certificate before moving on to the Associate's degree. CNM students earned 232 Child Development Certificates in 2018-2019. Out of 69 graduates, 20 were enrolled at a 4 year institution with a 29% transfer rate. 2018-2019 was the third year of the Early Childhood Mentor Network (ECMN). The ECMN is a network of trained mentors to support our students in the field. Students are now having higher quality practicum experiences through intensive support in their field work. Through surveys students are reporting that they feel more prepared to work with children and manage classrooms.

Changes Implemented During the Past Year in Support of Student Learning
We started a new assessment cycle in 2017-2018 after a 5-year cycle focusing on the core values of the program. In this assessment cycle we are looking at the student learning outcomes by course and having students and faculty complete a survey on how well they meet the student learning objectives and what assessments were used to support their learning. This is our first attempt to directly assess students learning outcomes and student knowledge on a course level assessment. All syllabi in the education programs have a chart that aligns student learning outcomes directly to assessments so that students and faculty are aware of what students should be learning in the courses and how learning will be assessed. This survey was designed to help us understand if students and faculty are able to articulate how assessment and SLOs are linked in the courses.

Summary of Assessment Findings

Students reported course assignments prepared them to meet course learning objectives in each ECME course offered and surveyed. In the Fall of 2018 and Spring of 2019, a total of 965 survey responses were collected. Students were asked how well the course prepared them to meet the specific course learning objectives, and they were also asked to state which assignments aligned to each course learning objective. The scale of 0-5 allowed students to rate alignment as “very poor” (0), or “excellent” (5). The average rating for Fall 2018 and Spring 2019 was 4.67.

Interpretation of Assessment Findings

Overall, students and instructors feel that the summative assessments are preparing students to meet the course learning objectives (i.e., that there is a high degree of alignment).

Action Plan in Support of Student Learning (Describe changes to be made that are based at least in part on the assessment interpretation. If the assessment did not yield useful information, describe changes to be made in the assessment methodology and/or criteria.)

In response to this survey data, we will follow up with the qualitative responses from students and instructors to ensure that we are streamlining the assignments that they feel best prepare students to meet course learning objectives.

Please select all of the following that characterize the types of changes described in the above action plan:

Recommendations, Proposals, and/or Funding Requests	Budget Needed
In order to more efficiently collect, analyze, and act upon programmatic data, the Education Program would benefit tremendously from data software. This program assessment provides a glimpse into the alignment and effectiveness of our program, but with more sophisticated data software (e.g., Tk20, LiveText), we could collect more robust data that would allow us to draw better conclusions about what is working well in our program and what improvements should be made on a formative and summative basis.	Click or tap here to enter text.
